

Astronomy is for All of Us:

Celebrating women astrophysicists and the history of cosmic discovery

During Massachusetts STEM Week, join us for an evening celebrating remarkable women in astronomy from across the galaxy. Enjoy a dynamic lecture on exciting applications of astronomy, explore a captivating exhibition in the Great Refractor, engage in family-friendly STEM activities, and cap off the night with fall refreshments and stargazing. Welcome Remarks from Professor Lisa Kewley, Director, Center for Astrophysics | Harvard & Smithsonian.
