WINTER IN KENDALL

Enjoy winter with free community events in Kendall Square!

Sunday, February 4 | 10:30 AM - 12:30 PM
Hacking Challenges: The Aftermath @ MIT Museum

Ever wonder how a hackathon works? MIT iQuHACK is an annual hackathon focused on learning what quantum computers are and how to use them. After a weekend of developing and testing code, join the hackers as they present the quantum solutions in front of a group of judges, and you! Free for Cambridge residents, the MIT community, or with museum admission.

Saturday, February 17 | 12:00-3:00 PM
Free Community Skate @ Canal District Kendall
Sponsored by BioMed Realty and Kendall Square Association

Skate the day away at this free community skate! Enjoy pizza from Kendall Kitchen and hot cocoa to keep you warm. Food and skating are free. Rentals are first come first serve, so bring your own skates if possible. Funded in part by the City of Cambridge.

February 17-24 | Foundry Festival @ The Foundry

Looking to entertain your kids over February vacation? The Foundry Consortium will host its second annual family festival February 17-24. The festival offers a week of free family-centered arts and STEM programming for the community. Experience art and design programs that drive social change! All ages and skill levels are welcome.

Thursday, February 29 | 4:30 - 6:00 PM
Glow Show with MIT Spinning Arts @ Kendall/MIT Open Space
Presented by MIT Open Space Programming

Catch an artful movement and dance performance by MIT Spinning Arts Club at this informal spinjam with a live DJ set by MIT Dance Music Coalition. Enjoy hot cocoa (while supplies last). Bring your own mug to keep things sustainable and you'll get a special sweet treat.

Saturday, March 9 | 4:00-6:00 PM
Parka Dance Party @ Kendall/MIT Open Space
Presented by MIT Open Space Programming

Shake away your winter blues at the family-friendly Parka Dance Party geared toward all ages! Bundle up and enjoy the outdoors with friends and neighbors, grab a hot cocoa (while supplies last!), and groove to great music with a live DJ. Registration recommended.
